THE SEABOARD AIR-LINE.

eake Bay between Baltimore and Old oint Comfort, Norfolk and Ports-Point (

The combined bonded debt of the railroade comprising this system is less than that of any other system of like importance in the United States. The present combined indebtedness per mile of the Seaboard Air Line, Florida Central and Peninsular, and Georgia and Alabama railways, is in fact less than one-half the debt per mile of the Southern Railway; about one-third of the debt per mile of either the Louisville and Nashville, the Mobile and Ohio, the Norfolk and Western, and the Chesapeake and Ohio railways.

The new system will operate its own peake and Ohio rallways.

The new system will operate its own trains from Washington, the capital of the nation, through the capital of the nation, through the capital cities of six South Atlantic and Gulf States—Richmond, Ya., Raleigh, N. C.; Columbia, S. C., Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery, Ala,, and Tallahassee, Fla. It will take in every important seaport from Baltimore to Pensacola, including Norfolk, Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Fernandina, Jacksonville, on the Atlantic, and Tampa, Cedar Keys and St. Marks, on the Gulf of Mexico, reaching also the important interior cities and towns of Duritam, Weldon, Henderson, and Charlotte, N. C.; Chester, Camden, Clinton, Barnwell, S. C.; Augusta, Athens, Columbia and Albany, Ga., as well as the leading places throughout Fforida.

Among the cities and winter resorts

Florida.

Among the cities and winter resorts which will be reached via Seaboard Air Line from New York and Washington by shorter routes than by any other lines are: Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Paim Beach, Miami, Tampa and Fernandina, Fla.; Raleigh and Southern Pines, N. C.; Columbia, S. C.; Athens, Ga., and intermediate points.

The Scaboard and Roanoke Railroad.

Pines. N. C.: Columbia, S. C.: Athens, Ga., and intermediate points.

The Scaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, the parent company of this system, has been in successful operation for more than fifty years, and has never been through a receivership or required reorganization. For many years past it has been paying guaranteed dividends on stock and in one year paid 50 per cent. dividend on common stock in scrip worth considerably more than par. The fiscal year which has just closed has been the most successful in its entire history. The several roads which will take part in the consolidation have also made a magnificent showing for the past year. The aggregate surplus, after the payment of interest on bonds, has amounted for this year to nearly 100 per cent, over and above fixed charges. That these roads should make so magnificent a showing while operated sepanicent a showing while operated sepanificent a showing will encessarily result from the consolidation, certainly promises well for the future.

All of the roads comprising the new system, which is about to be perfected.

All of the roads comprising the new system, which is about to be perfected, are controlled in Richmond and Baltimore, and are managed entirely in the South; in fact, this is the only large system in the Southern States which is owned and managed by Southern men residing in the South.

THE BOERS OBJECT.

Regarding supremacy, Mr. Chamberlain said:

Regarding supremacy, Mr. Chamber-lain said:

"The whoic object of the Boers has been to oust the Queen from her posi-tion as suzerain. Now they have thrown off the mask and declared themselves a sovereign, independent state. Her Majesty's government have had a sus-picion amounting to the knowledge that the mission of Dr. Leyds has been one continual series of negotiations with foreign powers against the British.

continual series of negotiations with foreign powers against the British. (Loud cheers.)

The Transvaal and the Free State have an ideal which is dangerous to Great Britain, and by the continuous accretions of arms, the Transvaal had become by far the most powerful military state in Africa. That was a danger and we have escaped one of the greatest dangers we were ever subjected to in Africa. The whole point of difference between the opposition and the government is as to the details of the negotiations."

Justifying his conduct of affairs, Mr. Chamberlain said: "I am much more afraid of the charge of being too moderate than of the charge of being excessive.

After Mr. Chamberlain had resumed his seat an exceedingly warm deback was indulged in, after which a division was taken upon Mr. Stanhope's amendment to the address, disapproving the conduct of the negotiations with the Transvaal and the amendment was rejected by a vote of 361 to 135. The address was then unanimously adopted.

terized as "neither honest nor honorable."

The Speaker, Mr. William Court Gully, intervened, saying that the language of the Colonial Secretary was "beyond parliamentary bounds."

Mr. Chamberlain retorted that it was impossible adequately to describe Mr. Stanhope's accusation that he (Chamberlain) and Sir Alfred Milner had fomented war.

"The Government welcomed all honest and honorable criticism of their policy," said Mr. Chamberlain, "and I wish I could apply these epithets to the speech for the member for Burnley."

A SCENE OF DISORDER. A SCENE OF DISORDER.

A SCENE OF DISORDER.

Mr. Stanhope, leading to his feet, cried: "I rise to order. I thought first yesterday to arraign the conduct of the Secretary. He speaks of my criticism as dishonorable and dishonest. Can such terms be applied to members of this House?" (Opposition cheers).

The speaker—"I think the language of the Secretary of State for the Colonies is going beyond—(the rest of his words being drowned in wild Irish cheers and shouts of "withdraw").

Mr. Chamberlain calmly waited until the uproar had subsided, and then said:
"I bow with all respect, Mr. Speaker, to your decision. I withdraw everything I have said."

Then, amid ironical Irish cheers, he proceeded to denounce the "campaign of slander" based on his refusal to accept Mr. Stanhope's challenge to produce the letter he wrote Hawkesley saying that if Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman or Sir William Vernon-Harcourt desired to see the letter, he would produce it with the greatest pleasure, as they were honorable members and honorable men. (Cries of "order" and "withdraw.")

Mr. Stanhope again leaped to his feet and called upon the Speaker to intervene.
